Paul Smith's College has been educating students about the production of maple syrup for over 60 years. The college operates an educational and experiential learning sugar bush on the White Pine Camp Road with over 2500 taps on trees that are certified organic.

There is also a demonstration sugar bush and educational sugar house at the Paul Smith's College VIC where students and the general public learn about both maple and birch syrup production. For more information on programs email: bmcdonnell@paulsmiths.edu

The college also hosts a Maple School in the summer for aspiring sugar makers. For more information visit Adirondackmapleschool.com
